DOUBLE LIFE CHARGED TO EATON BY WIDOW

"Admiral Was Sometimes a Gentleman, and Sometimes Vildest of Vile," Says Woman's Defender.

PLYMOUTH, MASS., Oct. 24.—Admiral Francis T. Grant, junior, counsel for Mrs. Eaton, widow of Admiral Eaton, in his opening address for the defense, rehearsed the story which the accused claims is to tell to the jury from the witness stand.

"We will show you that there was no friction, no misunderstanding, no day when the Admiral was taken sick," he said. "We will show that the testimony of the physicians who attended the Admiral have many contradictions and facts, that they were intended for harm and that they were not hallucinations."

"We will show that he had a double life, sometimes he was a gentleman, other times he was the vilest of the vile. We will show by the testimony of the physicians who attended his first wife and himself in Washington, D. C., that while his wife was in no condition, in addition to this, we will show from the way she served with him on the ship, that she was with him when he had a double life."

"He said a Boston physician prescribed a tablet containing one one-hundredth grain of arsenic to Admiral Eaton for stomach trouble."

Solicitor Dorsey Repeats Factor Employees Tried to Block Probe

Solicitor General Dorsey repeated at the hearing on a new trial for Leo M. Frank Friday his charges that friends of Frank and employees at the pencil factory had so concealed and withheld evidence during the murder mystery as to be conclusive indication that the defendant was the guilty person.

The defense was seeking to maintain its contention that the court was in error for allowing testimony and argument along this line when the Solicitor reiterated his belief. He said that the apparent unanimity with which friends and employees withheld information from the detectives had it convincing to his mind that there was a virtual conspiracy to protect the defendant.

"I hold that I had a right to state what I thought," he declared to Judge Jones.

"Maybe the Solicitor had no rights in the matter, but I think he had. Let them put in their reasons exactly what I said. I'm willing to stand by it."

The hearing was delayed considerably by continuous squabbles over minor points in the wording and phrasing of the defense's reasons.

Attorney Arnold and Solicitor Dorsey, as soon as the hearing on a new trial resumed Friday morning, were embroiled in an argument over the complete denial of the testimony of the stenographers who had interviewed the objections of the defense during the trial.

Arnold maintained that the stenographers in many instances had entered in the record only the first objection made by a lawyer for the defense, and had disregarded the additional objections that might have been made during the subsequent argument.

Stearns and Black Present.

Detectives Stearns and Black, who were assigned to Solicitor Dorsey to work under his direction on the investigation into the Plaster murder mystery, have been in constant attendance since the hearing began Wednesday.

Frank's lawyers spring a surprise in the fact of their long history of reason, holding that by the State's theory Jim Conley was an accomplice and that his testimony therefore could not be accepted except as corroborated by the circumstances or by another witness. The Solicitor remarked that he had not considered this proposition, but would be prepared to talk on it later in the hearing.

The reason charged that the court erred in not instructing the jury that if they believed from the evidence that Conley watched for Frank at the pencil factory door, and that his purpose in watching was to protect Frank in the commission of acts which constituted a felony in the State of Georgia, then Conley, as if any alleged murder committed in the progress of any such attempt to commit the act that was described by the negro, would be an accomplice and the jury could not give him evidence unless he was corroborated by the facts and circumstances or by another witness.

The announcement that the temper of the crowd about the courthouse on the closing days of the trial was such that grave fears were entertained for the safety of Frank was one of the interesting features of the hearing. Attorney Luther Rosser, chief of counsel for Frank, asserted that they would have "eaten the defendant alive" if he had gone out among them on the day the verdict was rendered, particularly if an acquittal had been brought in.

Take Advantage of Absence.

Solicitor Dorsey contended that the defense had waived the presence of Frank in the courtroom at the time the verdict was rendered and

BIG FIRE IN ATLANTA STREET

Huerta Seizes U. S. Liner; Diaz Begs Help MORSEY BUILDS UP DEFENSE FOR JURORS

50 GIRLS IN FIRE ZONE PROPPED

Half-Million Property Damage Threatened as Flames Sweep Brady-Miller Stables.

Fire, which threatened to destroy business buildings worth more than half a million dollars, defied the efforts of the entire fire fighting force of Atlanta Friday afternoon and threatened to ruin the structure at Brady and Huron streets. Firemen occupied by the Brady-Miller stables.

An immense crowd, estimated as high as 10,000 persons, was attracted to the scene and firemen had a hard time keeping the curious out of the danger zone.

The flames, bursting out of the first building, unexpectedly and as though they had been waiting for some time, had gained tremendous headway when the engine arrived. It looked for a time as though the Atlanta Envelope Company, Inc. Capital City Tobacco Company, the Capital City Tobacco Company all were doomed.

As the fire menaced the plant of the Atlanta Envelope Company, a three-story building, 50 girls employed in the building fled in terror for the exits. Panic was threatened for a time, as the plant quickly filled with smoke, but all the young women were believed to have reached the street safely.

A general fire alarm was issued as soon as the seriousness of the situation was apparent, and thousands in the Plaza flocked to the scene, attracted by the shrieking of the fire engines. Traffic was demolished as the engines rushed through the heart of the city.

The fire started on the south side of Brady Miller Building, and the girls were scrambling within a few minutes. Chief Cummings was at a loss to determine the cause.

Streams of water were being poured on the burning structure, and after 40 minutes of hard work, it was believed the fire was well under control.

FRIDAY'S DEVELOPMENTS IN THE MEXICAN SITUATION.
Felix Diaz, Presidential candidate, fearing Huerta's treachery, appeals to United States Consul Canada at Veracruz for protection, which is given him.

Huerta seizes the Ward liner Morro Castle, with Mrs. Lind, wife of President Wilson's special announcer, aboard, just as it is ready to sail for Havana. On protest by Mr. Lind, the vessel is released several hours later.

Secretary of State Bryan announces official promise from Huerta that he should be elected President Sunday he will not accept.

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 24.—Felix Diaz, candidate for President of Mexico, has appealed to the United States for protection from agents of General Huerta, and this has been promised him by Consul Canada.

He was escorted late last night to Consul Canada, and one American maritime to the German hotel, which is next door to the American Consulate.
In case an attempt is made to arrest Diaz at the hotel, he can escape over the roof to the building which is American territory and which is protected by the United States flag.

The appeal of Diaz was made to Consul Canada when the Mexican Presidential candidate learned that he was to be arrested and shipped out of the country in order to prevent his being a candidate in Sunday's election.

American Liner Held By Huerta; Peril Grows.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24.—The peril which has confronted American residents in Mexico was increased today.
As a result of the receipt of news from Vera Cruz that the Mexican gunboat Zaragoza had seized the Ward liner Morro Castle, a United States ship, and the preparations which the American Consulate in Veracruz has made to protect Felix Diaz, the hatred of the Mexicans toward citizens of the United States has been fastened to a higher pitch than at any time since the break between the Mexican and United States Governments occurred.

The Government's explanation of the detention of the Morro Castle is that her captain was wanted to testify in a case of long standing. Government officials declared that the ship was for Havana, because of threats made against them for opposing Huerta's policies. Their flight, they thought to have been the reason why the Morro Castle was seized.

The real reason for the hold-up of the vessel, however, is believed to be the fact that eight of the thirteen passengers of the Morro Castle were Americans. The State Department has taken passage on the ship for Havana, because of threats made against them for opposing Huerta's policies. Their flight, they thought to have been the reason why the Morro Castle was seized.

SO BURN TO SO KNOW HIS FATE

Arguments Begin With No Direct Testimony From Defense in Jones County Slaying.

Macon, Oct. 24.—A Jones County jury will decide late this afternoon whether to convict the late of Nick Wilson for the murder of James King, the farmer with whose wife he was infamous.

The arguments will close this afternoon before 5 o'clock. Attorney Dean Newman opened for the defense this morning and was followed by Attorney Jackson and Johnson for the State. This afternoon Solicitor Prosecutor will conclude for the prosecution and Attorney Cooper for the defense.

A motion change was made today in the plans of the defense when Wilson decided that he did not want to take the stand and let the jury about the killing of King.

No testimony by Defense.
Wilbur had carefully planned a statement, asserting self-defense and denying the confessions, but his counsel advised him that there was an element of self-defense in his case as indicated by the testimony. Wilbur then decided that he had better remain silent. Consequently, the defense did not offer any direct testimony and allowed the evidence submitted by the State to go to the jury unchanged except for cross-examination.

Attorney Cooper made a motion for a mistrial upon the converting of court, on the ground that W. L. Mc-Donnell, one of the jurors, was recalled by Mrs. King, but he was overruled.

Perfect Football Weather in Atlanta Promised Saturday

Perfect football weather is promised by the forecast for Saturday.

The official prediction issued by Director van Meterman of the Atlanta Bureau Friday was:

"Rain followed by clearing skies and cooler temperature tonight. Saturday fair."

The storm period which has enveloped Atlanta and the State for the past few days has passed, the forecast declared.

A slight fall of temperature marked Friday morning. At 3 o'clock the thermometer stood at 65 degrees. At noon it registered 60.

"She has nothing to hide," he said,
"and I am confident that when the jurors hear her remarkable statement, the most remarkable that I have ever heard, they will unhesitatingly find her not guilty."

Mrs. King will not offer any witness in her behalf, unless character witnesses be presented. Mr. McNell has not decided yet whether or not he will pursue this course, but he believes now that he will simply submit her statement to the jury.

The most damaging testimony that the State will offer against Mrs. King will be her alleged confession made the day of her arrest.

Court Admits Confession.
A substantial effort was made by the defense yesterday afternoon to keep from the jury the confession made by Wilbur on the night of his arrest, while he was being hurried through the woods to Macon to escape mob violence last December. It was regarded by Attorney Cooper that the confession was wrong from the defendant on threats and intimidation.
Judge Park allowed the confession to go to the jury, as it was related by County Treasurer Riberder.

BANK STATEMENT CALLED.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Acting Comptroller of the Currency Kaesler issued a call for the condition of national banks, as the close of business on October 25.

Train Goes Through Bridge Weakened by Rain; Fireman Hurt

One man was injured and several hundred dollars damage was done Friday morning when a freight train of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Anderson Railroad plunged into Tillman's Creek near Manchester. The engine over the creek had been weakened by rain.

Fireman Levi Huley was caught in the wreckage and is reported seriously injured. Other members of the train were injured and escaped without injury. The engine rained and several freight cars piled up in the creek.

Trains will be delayed by way of Woodbury, an additional distance of 10 miles, until the wreck is cleared and the track repaired.

Worst Boys in U. S. Are Found in Toledo, Erie and Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 24.—"Milwaukee boys are the worst in the country," said Jack Robbins, of the National Fire Brokers' Association, at a meeting of the philanthropists today. Toledo boys are the worst in the country, according to Robbins, and Erie, Pa. boys the next.

Mr. Robbins interviewed three boys from the city, and reported as follows:

Smoking cigarettes, 4; smoking a pipe, 4; chewing tobacco, 1; do not use tobacco, 1; 1 day had when they have money, 14 day none, 1; go to the picture shows, 25; use literature house reading, 4; are interested in baseball and 4 are interested in prize-fighting.

Attorney Rosner began the reading of the affidavits at 12 o'clock, immediately after the last of the 115 reasons advanced by the defense had been accepted by the prosecution or revised by Judge Roan. Most of them had been published in the newspapers.

New affidavits testified to the presence in Albany, Ga., of Henkle on the date he denied he was there. Stiles Hopkins, member of the Rosner & Bradson law firm, appeared at the hearing with the register of the New Albany Hotel bearing the signature of Henkle at the disputed time. "This the defense contended, clinched their allegation that Henkle was there at the time he is reported to have made denigratory remarks about Frank.

Among the remarks that Henkle was alleged to have made before the trial were that he "would like to break Frank's neck," that he would like to see a dollar that he would be on the Frank jury, that he believed Frank and no one else was guilty of the murder, and that if he was accused as a juror he would do his best to obtain a conviction.

Denounced Frank's Race.
There were many denigratory references to Frank's race, and one affirmed charged Henkle with saying that if the jury ever turned him over he would not get out of town alive.

Solicitor Dorsey, repeated at the hearing his charges that friends of Frank and employees at the peacfactory had so concealed and withheld evidence during the murder mystery as to be conclusive indication that the defendant was the guilty person.

The defense was seeking to maintain its contention that the court was in error for allowing testimony and in the matter, but I think he had. Let them put in their reasons exactly what I said. I'm willing to stand by The hearing was delayed considerably by continuous squabbles over minor points in the wording and phrasing of the affidavits.

Attorney Arnold and Solicitor Dorsey, as soon as the hearing on a new Frank trial resumed Friday morning, were embroiled in an argument over the completeness with which the court stenographers had entered the objections of the defense during the trial.

Arnold maintained that the stenographers in many instances had er-rored in the record only the first objection made by a lawyer for the defense and had disregarded the additional objections that might have been made during the subsequent argument.
Several of the court reporters merely designating the debate by the notation, "Attorneys argued question pro and con."

Let's Testimony Again.
The point arose at the beginning of the review of reasons which were left unpresented from the first consideration. The defense maintained that the court error in letting in the testimony of New Let that Detective John Black had talked to him longer than Frank, the inference being that Frank was not willing to tell the truth from the negro. Arnold contended that objection had been made at the time on the ground that it was immaterial, irrelevant, illegal, prejudicial and a mere conclusion.

Dorsey declared that the only objection made then was that it was not in evidence. At this juncture, Attorney Arnold made the charge that the stenographers at times got only one part of the objection, missing what might be made in the course of the following argument. Stenographers Tetterton and Freer were called and asked. Tetterton testified that he reported the arguments of counsel in full and later "bated them down," retaining all the objections.

Freer said that he omitted the arguments, but made record of all objections.

SOLICITOR ARMED WITH SHEAF OF AFFIDAVITS TO DEFEAT REPEALING

With the grounds to be argued for a new trial settled upon at the close of the forenoon session of the Frank hearing in the State Capitol, the lawyers for the prosecution and defense made ready in the afternoon to begin the actual arguments for and against the motion of the defense.

Practically everything was cleared away except the reading of a few more of the affidavits against A. H. Henkle and Marcellus Johanning, the two jurors accused of bias and prejudice in their consideration of the evidence. It was regarded as likely that the hearing would conclude late Saturday afternoon.

Solicitor Dorsey, in spite of the defense's charges and evidence against Henkle and Johanning, conceded nothing. He was prepared with a great sheaf of affidavits with which to support his arguments that neither of the attacked jurors was guilty of bias or prejudice when he went into the jury box. As this offered the possibility of being the point on which a new trial might hinge, the Solicitor was prepared to fight to the very last every contention of bias by the defense.

Attorney Rosner began the reading of the affidavits at 12 o'clock, immediately after the last of the 115 reasons advanced
by the defense had been accepted by the prosecution or revised by Judge Roan. Most of them had

VIRGINIA WILL FINISH GRIND HERE TO-DAY

Entire Squad Arrives for Clash With Georgia at Ponce DeLeon To-morrow Afternoon

With Virginia team and student body arrived here today from their respective homes, the entire squad of the Virginia team is here today. The players all appear in good condition and confident of defeating their rivals.

Coach Warren, Varnier, Harrell, Neff and Johnson, and 18 players were in the crowd—Brown, Rodas, Parker, Woodfield, Neider, White, Ullrich, Gough, Mayer, Landrum, Ray, Jeff, Pinner, Randolph, Coleman, Goodrich, Trunkner and Walker were in the party.

The Virginia team will have a workout Friday afternoon at one of the gym school grounds. The practice will consist of a long ball game, a short ball game, and a series of plays.

Virginia wins by more than two touchdowns. Coach Warren says: "The Virginia game to be as hard as the Georgia game. The Virginia team has been well pushed to the limit to win."

KEOKUK PLAYER IS DRAFTED. KEOKUK, IOWA, Oct. 24. It was announced today that the Georgia team will be drafted by the United States Army.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR.

WINTER. Oh, the long and dreary winter! Oh, the cold and cruel winter! When the baseball players beat it to the cold and cruel winter!

And the sports hold out no more in the late autumn season. The cold and cruel winter! The cold and cruel winter!

Cal complains that he has only three pitchers for the world tour, but the Giants went through the World's Series with only one.

It is claimed that the world tour will have the athletes in poor shape for next season's work, but any man who can survive that trip is tough enough to go through a regular schedule without hitting an ace.

In view of the fact that the Georgia Club-Knightman Brown match will go to the highest bidder, we are willing to take a chance and bid five (5) cents.

Why doesn't Bill Gular place himself under the management of John J. McCreary, one of our greatest manipulators of ivory?

After Tommy Murphy has met Parker McCreary a few more times, he may learn something of that ancient sport known as boxing.

It is evident in the fall, its first season, that the Georgia team is in the best of shape to win the championship.

Men have arisen in their midst, commanding grand opera in English, but if one were to arise and say, "Give us football in English," he would be laughed at.

AUBURN LOOKS FOR HARD GAME WITH MISS. A. M.

Mike Donahue Preparing His Warriors for Tough Battle Saturday Afternoon.

By Mike Donahue. (Coach Auburn Football Eleven.) THURSDAY, ALA., Oct. 24.—The work of the year in the program at Auburn is now in preparation for the coming season.

So far the games have been preliminary, and only good practice games, but from now on every game is going to be a doubtful proposition.

The game with Mississippi A. M. in Birmingham Saturday will be a real test for the Auburn team.

With the exception of Parker, the rest of the team is in good shape. The team field is in the best of shape.

Auburn has never played on, as the business were looking for. Trainers may be out of the Mississippi game as he has a hard time of it.

MAYOR APPROVES NEW FACTORY LAW

Mayor Woodward has approved the city ordinance regulating sanitation and health in factories where men and girls are employed, and a board of health will be notified of the next meeting to enforce the law.

Chairman Claude L. Ashby, of the old negro and ex-officer of the Board of Health, said in a statement that the ordinance is a big and cotton mill revealed on the part of the city of Atlanta, and that it is an investigation of all plants in the city would be immediately be-

When the Board of Health meets on going to inform the members of the ordinance, he said, "I will make a personal investigation of factories where women are employed," he said, "and I will make a personal investigation of factories where women are employed."

Ogling Starts Fight In Picture Theater; Belligerents Fined

W. J. Murray, motion picture show proprietor, and J. R. Bowen, a plumber, were fined $5.00 each by Recorder Boyles Thursday afternoon for fighting before a picture-theater audience in Murray's Whitehall Street Theater Tuesday night.

Murray stated to the court that Bowen was trying to seduce a young woman who sat next to him, and that when Bowen told the theater he (Murray) told Bowen he need not come again. He said that Bowen then called him a liar and struck him. Bowen said that he was not trying to seduce a young woman, but that it was after Murray had been staring at her so long he thought something was the matter with her, so he took a look himself. Then, Bowen started out of the theater, he said Murray accused him of "ogling."

The fight followed. Recorder Boyles stated that he had known Bowen for 10 years and that he had always looked upon him as a gentleman and a straight citizen. He recommended Murray for his actions and fined both for fighting.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

The Georgia Federation of Colored Women's Clubs has presented the Railroad Commission's petition that likely will receive the careful attention of that honorable body, and is almost sure to produce results commendable and worth while.

The petition asks better railroad accommodations in Georgia for colored passengers, without in any way suggesting a withdrawal of a single essential feature of the present segregation arrangements.

The petition asks among other things that the door separating (usually) the colored compartment from the white smoker be kept closed and that the colored section be provided with more than one lavatory.

These colored women, who represent to their federation the best element of negro population in Georgia, do not think that their cut-off section of the ordinary cars used for colored passengers should be made virtually a smoking car, which it often is, particularly in view of the fact that they are not permitted to use any other car, and they do not believe that it is right for them to be deprived of lavatory privileges, as they now almost invariably are. They hold that the sexes, at least, should be separated in these cars.

Chairman (Candler) of the Railroad Commission, believes the petition is in every way worthy of the most serious attention of the commission and he will urge its consideration at the next meeting of the same.

He holds, as does practically every Southern white person, that the races must be separated on the trains, but that the colored passengers, nevertheless, should have reasonable comforts and accommodations while traveling.

Oscar Underwood's forthcoming election to the United States Senate being accepted as a foregone conclusion in Washington, Representative William Charles Adamson's friends are boosting him for the Democratic floor leadership in succession to the Mr. Adamson is ranked on the Ways and Means Committee by Representative Kitchin, and even if he is not named, a Southerner seems destined to win the plum.

It may be asked, as a fact, however, that the Adamson boom is a very real and a very live one, and he is looked upon as amply and completely qualified for the job.

Judge Adamson is now the chairman of the great Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, and as such takes a very high stand in the House. He is a veteran in point of service and experience, and many members would like to see him made the party leader on the floor.

Governor John M. Slaton was the guest of honor at the Georgia State Fair in Macon Thursday. The day was especially set aside as "Governor's Day," and was so advertised in all the fair literature.

The Executive was accompanied to Macon by a number of his military staff officers and numerous friends.

Besides the Governor and the Atlanta party, there were politicians and statesmen, real and pret, from all points of the State, gathered in Macon by special invitation to meet the Chief Magistrate and inspect the fair.

Indirectly, the big show is being held under the direction of the State.

and to that extent is peculiarly interesting to the members of the General Assembly.

Chairman Murphy (Candler) and Representative Prince Webster leave today for Washington, where they will attend the National Convention of Railroad Commissioners, officially representing the State of Georgia.

The annual gathering brings together a great number of very eminent State officials and serves as a sort of clearing house for ideas accumulated throughout the nation here and there, with respect to railway management and operation from the standpoint of the various railroad commissions.

Both Mr. Candler and Mr. Webster made it a particular point to attend these meetings, both as a matter of duty and pleasure, for it is strictly in line with both.

The Court of Appeals is working overtime nowadays, seeking to clear its docket before Chief Judge Hill leaves that bench for the newly created position of Superior Court Judge in Fulton.

For a time, an unauthorized rumor that Judge Douthett also was to leave the appeals bench swamped the Governor with applications for that position, but Judge Douthett's positive assertion that he has no idea of leaving the bench any time soon, if at all, has about put a stop to that matter.

The South Georgia member of the court refuses to remain with it for some time to come, anyway—in fact, it is more than likely that he will serve his full term, at least, before retiring.

When Judge Hill steps down, and out Judge Richard B. Russell will come, right of seniority, as that is the rule on the appeals bench.

With the retirement of Judge Hill, Judge Russell also will become a member of the original court as a member of the same.

The first three members were Judge Hill, Judge Russell and Judge Arthur Powell.

TOURNAMENT FOR CORN SHOW WEEK

At a meeting of the Corn Show committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, Acting Secretary W. H. Leahy was requested to call a conference of the officers of the Fifth Infantry Regiment on an early date with a view to arranging for a military tournament or parade while the Corn Show is in progress. As the Auditorium will be occupied at that time by the Southern Chicken Show, other plans will have to be made, and it is for this purpose the conference of the regimental officers will be called one day next week.

The committee arranged to send out invitations to the thousands of members of the boys' corn clubs all over the State and special invitations will also be sent to county school superintendents and farm demonstration agents as far from corn shows.

An interesting feature of Corn Show week will be an extensive moving picture, entitled "The Dawn of Agriculture," in which an interesting story is woven and which will deal with the progress of agriculture from early days to the present. Plans are being made to have it presented either in the Grand Opera House or some other building that will accommodate the boys.

Announcement was made that the Southern Express Company has agreed to transport all exhibits for the corn clubs and the girls' canning clubs at Atlanta free of charge. This will include the camping exhibits at the State Fair in Macon.

The members of the Corn Show committee, all of whom were present, are: H. G. Hastings, chairman; J. E. Bodenhamer, Harry C. Fisher, Dr. M. E. Stockbridge and W. H. Leahy.

One way is to go to indoor sports. There are many indoor sports arenas in Atlanta, and they offer a variety of sports to choose from. Another way is to watch the news on the radio. The radio provides a great way to stay up to date on the latest sports news.

is attempting to find a backfield man of some weight to help out the lighter players. A good deal of time has been spent on Taylor, but he had lost so much weight that it was doubtful if it was enough to be spent on him now. He is not yet back, but will, and will be used to advantage somewhere else in the line-up if and in the backfield.

Kearley, who played end last year, but who has been out with a "warrior's burn," is also being worked in the backfield. He has a good deal of experience in the backfield, and is expected to make good in this position. He and Taylor may be alternated at end and in the backfield.

It is expected that Auburn will take the full variety squad to Birmingham.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 24.—An uninterrupted procession of humors are being showcased from former President Roosevelt in Brazil.

Last night he delivered his speech on international relations.

The Panama Canal, he said, would lead to closer commercial relations between North and South America, of which the United States would receive more benefits than would the States. He referred to the interference of the United States in San Domingo and the Dominican Republic, as measures destined to work to the advantage of those nations and to inspire confidence in them.
